

WARHOL BULLET KARMA Review quotes:

“.. a very talented solo performer “

“Wearing Warhol’s trademark sunglasses we get both the quiet almost taciturn Warhol who interviewers found frustrating and the loud and passionate private artist battling to break down artistic barriers with his vision of a bright almost comic book world.”

“He lays a very real Warhol out before us warts and all, never sugaring the pill.”

“the shooting was handled superbly, and the portrayal of Valerie Solanas was one of Roosts highlights.”

“Roost does bring him convincingly to life and shows us the Warhol that the artist kept hidden.”

“Both Truman Capote and Francis Bacon have perfectly played cameos.”

“Capote comes out with one of the most memorable lines calling Warhol a ‘Sphinx without a secret’. For me this is the nub of the play.”

“Was Warhol and artist with no depth? Was he as he himself says just ‘surface’? Roost explores this and cleverly makes no judgement leaving us to decide.”

-Pip Utton for Fringe Review

“Garry Roost is a totally convincing Warhol, in this impressive drama” Philip Wyn Jones
